JUDGMENT: (Per Hon'ble Sri Bilal Nazki, The Acting Chief Justice)

Petitioner-appellant filed the writ petition challenging the action of the respondents in awarding her 7 marks out of 50 in Paper II of Bio-Chemistry. The learned single Judge summoned the answer scripts and found that each of the questions had not been valued separately. Therefore, the learned single Judge directed the second respondent-University to get the paper revalued by an independent Professor of Bio-Chemistry. Then, the paper was sent to a Professor of Karnataka University. He revalued the paper, and again awarded 7 marks to the petitioner. After receipt of this report of revaluation, the learned single Judge dismissed the writ petition.

The paper had been valued by the Professors, and then, it had been revalued by an independent Professor, who also gave the same marks. It is none of the businesses of this court to interfere in such a matter, when the independent Professor had revalued the paper and has given 7 marks. There is absolutely no merit in the writ appeal, which is accordingly, dismissed. No costs.
